Abigail (Abi) Aswege is an attorney in Reinhart's Labor and Employment Practice, where she provides strategic advice to clients on various employment issues, such as non-compete agreements, equal rights, discrimination and labor law issues.

Abi serves as a dedicated adviser to her clients, helping them navigate the intricacies of the legal landscape with confidence. She is adept at identifying and solving complex legal problems and she prides herself on being a clear and concise communicator, keeping her clients informed and engaged throughout the legal process.

Abi brings a valuable perspective to labor and employment law as a woman of color with a wide range of life experiences that inform her work. This allows her to see all sides of a situation and equips her to utilize empathy and understanding to advocate for her client's best interests. She is passionate about using her legal skills to make a positive impact on the world.

Prior to joining Reinhart, Abi dedicated her time as a volunteer for the Afghan Refugee Asylum Assistance program, the Marquette Volunteer Legal Clinic and the Civil Legal Help Line. Outside of work, Abi loves to stay active, enjoys hiking and assisting a local beekeeper with his hives.
