Jacqueline M. Held is a paralegal in Reinhart's Real Estate and Corporate Law practices. She works primarily on buy/sell real estate transactions for commercial and multifamily properties and facilitates effective corporate governance, organization and succession planning for family businesses.

Jackie prides herself on being exceptionally thorough yet efficient, leveraging her approachable manner to serve as a dedicated conduit between attorneys and clients. She is committed to seeing each matter through to a successful outcome by keeping lines of communication open, carefully managing deadlines and ensuring that client expectations are clearly understood and fully met.

By providing the full picture to her clients, Jackie seeks to explore all options in pursuit of the best possible solutions. In doing so, her greatest reward comes from helping clients realize goals that, at times, seemed improbable, and seeing their lifelong dreams come true.

Outside of the office, she enjoys going to Badger games with her family and playing ice hockey. She is also a volunteer with the Dane County library system.
