

John Van Lieshout quoted in article on USPS eviction

Shareholder John Van Lieshout was quoted in the article "Developer could face uphill battle to evict Postal Service" published in the Biz Times. The article discusses the legalities that could ensue from an eviction notice given to the United States Postal Service by a Chicago-based investor and developer. The potential departure of USPS from the downtown Milwaukee location would make room for a multi-million redevelopment of the building.

John M. Van Lieshout is a shareholder in the firm's Environmental/Real Estate and Litigation practices where he has built a successful practice over the last three decades. Drawing from his extensive background, John successfully represents a range of clients with a practice primarily focused on environmental counseling including brownfields financing, remediation, and merger/acquisition due diligence as well as environmental litigation including Superfund/CERCLA cleanup cases and defense of environmental enforcement/forfeiture cases.
