Katie Breunig is a paralegal in Reinhart's Corporate Law Practice specializing in consumer finance. She uses her extensive experience to assist attorneys and clients on matters such as regulatory compliance, licensing and contract drafting.

Katie is well-versed in the licensing process, including the drafting of lending applications and the completion of timely renewals, supplements and other filings. Her extensive understanding of the laws and practices of each state, as well as the interplay between different states' requirements, allows her to proactively anticipate and avoid obstacles in a variety of regulatory processes.

She also maintains a thorough up-to-date library of client information, legal findings and relevant statutes, which facilitates accessible and cost-effective answers to client questions and issues.

With two decades of experience, Katie's organizational skills and responsive, personable approach make her a trusted adviser.

In her free time, she enjoys reading, playing video games and kayaking.
