the success of his clients by taking the time to understand their individual goals and business aspirations. He takes great satisfaction in the practice of real estate law because it involves adding value to things bigger than himself. Rob graduated summa cum laude from Marquette University Law School, where he served as associate editor of the Marquette Law Review and earned four CALI Awards.

Angela Feliciano is a member of the firm's Banking and Finance Law Practice, where she assists clients, borrowers and lenders on transactions that range in complexity. Angela understands that each client's situation is different and applies critical listening to inform creative solutions. In her work with borrowers and lenders, Angela draws upon fluency in both sides of a transaction to help with deal negotiations. She graduated cum laude from Marquette University Law School, where she earned three CALI Awards.

Josh Hernandez is a member of the firm's Employee Benefits Practice, where he works closely with clients to understand their objectives and help them make the most informed decisions possible. Josh works with Taft-Hartley multiemployer, corporate, and government benefit plan sponsors on a variety of issues, including compliance and administration. His adaptability and attention to detail help reach creative and effective outcomes for his clients. Josh graduated magna cum laude from Marquette University Law School, where he was business editor of the Marquette Law Review and a member of the Marquette Sports Law Review.

Reagan Joy is a member of the firm's Intellectual Property Practice, where she focuses on assisting clients with patent and trademark prosecution. Reagan works closely with her clients to identify their business objectives and helps translate them into efficiently actionable results. She graduated cum laude from Case Western Reserve University School of Law with a Law Technology and the Arts Concentration (Patent Law), and served as executive symposium editor of the Case Western Reserve Law Review.

Jordan Jozwik is a member of the firm's Corporate Practice, where she counsels clients through mergers and acquisitions, commercial transactions and entity formation. As a member of the firm's Data Privacy and Cybersecurity and Consumer Finance teams, she also focuses on national compliance matters in both practices, offering policy and form drafting as well as general compliance guidance. Jordan believes adaptability is critical to success and carefully tailors her approach to each client's situation. She graduated magna cum laude from Marquette University Law School, where she earned nine CALI Awards.
