Sarah Sesterhenn-Lee is a paralegal in Reinhart's Intellectual Property Practice where she focuses on matters related to patent prosecution. Her duties include assisting with the preparation and filing of applications with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, information disclosure statements, office action responses and other patent-related documentation.

Sarah's intellectual curiosity equips her to share in the excitement over clients' projects, which drives her to help them achieve success. Responsive and thorough, she works to stay ahead of deadlines while ensuring accuracy, and her master's degree in English gives her an edge in fact-checking and proofreading.

In her free time, she enjoys reading and traveling.
