Vince Beres has more than 30 years of experience in corporate law, where he focuses primarily on mergers and acquisitions for family-owned businesses. He is deeply committed to forging long-term relationships with his clients, and to help families navigate the legal complexities of business ownership.

As a member of Reinhart's Tax and Corporate Law practices, Vince represents clients ranging from closely held partnerships, LLCs and S corporations to large national and multinational manufacturing and food and beverage companies, among others. Along with mergers and acquisitions, he advises on contracts, tax matters, succession planning and general corporate matters.

Before joining Reinhart, Vince practiced as a certified public accountant. That proficiency, combined with his experience growing up in a family-owned business, make him especially equipped to serve his clients. He is dedicated to understanding their businesses and the unique family dynamics involved in each situation.

Vince is a frequent speaker on various tax and business planning issues. He is also committed to supporting his community and has been actively involved with arts organizations, United Way of Greater Milwaukee & Waukesha County and Catholic Charities.

In his free time, Vince enjoys traveling, outdoor activities and golfing.
